LANGUAGES AND CULTURE FOR INTERNATIONAL COMMUNICATION

MASTER'S DEGREE

The Course aims to train graduates with in-depth methodological and theoretical-scientific skills in two foreign languages, in which full fluency (not less than the C2 level of the CEFR scales for the first language, and not less than C1 level for the second language), and in-depth knowledge of the literary traditions of at least one of the chosen languages, as well as the relations that exist between language, literary tradition and cultural tradition in the widest sense, also from a diachronic perspective.

The programme lends itself to forming graduates with high-level skills in translation, which can be used in the editorial field of academic writing, literature and multimedia. Graduates will master the theoretical and practical tools for linguistic analysis of all text types, for all speaker types, and from any kind of linguistic and/or cultural context.

The core modules cover a wide range of topics, which are integral to the study plan. These can be combined with complementary subjects chosen by each student to suit his or her individual skills and abilities. Finally, our students are given the opportunity of a Double Degree programme with a German university.

Literature and civilisation curriculum allows students to acquire in-depth competences in the literature of the different languages and in their possible historical and social links.

Cultural activity and production curriculum includes the integration of competences in literature and in languages with competences related to the organisation of integrated activities and cultural productions with IT resources.
